

New Venue

We are pleased to announce that Sunday series concerts will now be presented at Monticello High School Auditorium. This brand new facility offers great acoustics, comfortable seating, and plenty of parking. Saturday performances will continue at the acclaimed Cabell Hall Auditorium at the University of Virginia.

Concert Lectures

Pre-Concert Lectures by Professor Richard Will are held 45 minutes prior to each series performance at both venues. Noon Notes by Kate Tamarkin are held Fridays at noon before each concert weekend at Northside Library in Albemarle Square.

Series Subscriptions

Save money by ordering a full season of symphonic masterworks. Subscription information is available online at www.cvillesymphony.org or by calling the Symphony at 434.924.3139.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S CONCERTS

OCTOBER 10, 2008

Our celebrated annual event especially designed for schools and young students. This year's performance, Score One for the Orchestra, explores the relationships between playing on a football team and playing in an orchestra. Call (434) 924-6505 for more information.

FAMILY HOLIDAY CONCERTS

DECEMBER 6 & 7, 2008

Featuring the highly praised University Singers and conducted by Michael Slon, this festive celebration has become a holiday tradition in Charlottesville.

CHAMBER ORCHESTRA OF CHARLOTTESVILLE

JANUARY 25, 2009

Featuring our region's best musicians performing Handel's Concerto Grosso Op. 6 No. 1; Britten's Serenade for Tenor, Horn, and Strings featuring Joseph Gaines and Ian Zook; and Mozart's Symphony No. 40 in G minor, K.550.

Concerts are Saturdays at 8:00pm and Sundays at 3:30pm. Programs and artists are subject to change.
